

I'm on the phone almost all day long at work. I don't feel like picking up the phone at night and talking to solicitors. I know they have to make a living, but not at my expense.